MISSING WOMAN FOUND.

After being mourned by relatives for three years as dead, Miss Josephine Hood, a beautiful girl of Asheville, N. C., highly connected, who married the international bigamist, "Lord" Percy Sholto Regional Douglas, alias John O. Cavendish, December 18, 1905, and was lost to her relatives after the couple went on their honeymoon to Mexico, where it was supposed the bigamist had murdered her, has been located at Tucumcari, New Mexico, living in poverty. Telegrams have been sent by friends in Asheville directing fraternal orders in New Mexico to care for Miss Hood, but probably on account of poor communication, no answers have been received.

Asheville was stirred in the spring of 1906, when it was found through photographs that Miss Hood, when 18 years old, had married the noted bigamist, who had previously been married six times and in response to the appeals of her friends secret service officers were detailed to search in Mexico for her. Traces of the route of the couple were discovered at Monterey, where Douglas had taken other of his dupes under pretense that he owned a vast estate in Mexico.

Douglas married Miss Mabel Hobbs, of Denver; Miss Scott, in South Bend, Ind.; Miss Gadya Simmons, of Memphis, Tenn.; Miss Justice Anderson, of Fort Worth, Texas; Miss Louisiana Hood, of Lumberton, N. C.; and Miss Jennie Franks, of Hot Springs, Ark., and others whose names are not known. He is probably the man, who was a year ago, sentenced to serve a long term in England for bigamy.

KILLED BY FORMER PARTNER.

As the result of business differences, W. S. Biggers, a dealer in blooded horses, in Charlotte, N. C., yesterday shot and killed J. G. Hood, at one time a leading dry goods merchant of Charlotte. Both parties are well known, and the shooting, which occurred in front of the Central Hotel, in the center of the city, created a sensation. After being locked in a cell Biggers began to sing loudly. Biggers lost an arm in a railroad accident some time ago.

Biggers fired four shots, three taking effect in the head of his victim, and one barely missing a negro hack driver, and smashing a plate glass in the window of a bank across the street. Standing over the prostrate man, Biggers fired a last shot into the back of his skull. He surrendered to a policeman, giving up his revolver, and was taken to headquarters. There he is now in a state of violent insanity, singing, shouting, and acting in a wild manner.

Trouble grew out of business differences dating back five years. Biggers and Hood were then business partners. The concern failed. Biggers claims he lost all his investments and that Hood got his funds.

POLICEMAN BEATEN.

Harry P. Stack, a Chicago policeman, has had his stir taken from him and has been suspended, pending charges following an attack made upon him in a street car by indignant passengers, who resented the beating of Otto Tosch for stepping on his toes. The policeman was rescued only after a riot call had been sent to a police station. Tosch was taken to a hospital. His scalp had been cut and his eyes were closed from blows. Tosch accidentally stepped on Stack's foot and the latter, it is charged, struck him with his club. Women passengers screamed and rushed to the front platform when the fight began. Tosch was unable to defend himself and after he had been struck several times went down. Mrs. Tosch, standing at a crossing waiting for her husband, saw him fall. She boarded the car and at the head of a crowd of indignant passengers attacked the policeman. They did a thorough job, tearing off his star, dragging him from the car and rolling him in the mud and slush.

ANOTHER ASSAULT.

Unconscious, shot through the hip and arm, her body a mass of bruises, her hair bloody and disheveled, and her clothes torn to shreds was the condition of Flora E. Sworth, 22 years old, a victim of a cruel assault, when found late Monday night at Shermock, 40-miles east of Pittsburgh, Pa. A rigid investigation, which lasted all night, has disclosed no clue to the identity of her assailant. The young woman is employed as a domestic. Early Monday evening she started from her employer's home along a private road to a grocery store. When midway between the house and store she was attacked. From the girl's condition it is evident she fought desperately. When the girl failed to return to the house in a reasonable time a search was instituted. It was learned she had not visited the grocery store and the searchers, with lanterns, found her about midnight lying at the side of the private road.

Remarkable Story

The story of Mrs. Matilda Warwick, of Kokomo, Ind., as told below, proves the curative properties of that well-known female remedy, Wine of Cardui. Mrs. Warwick says:

TAKE CARDUI

It Will Help You

"I suffered from pains in my head, shoulders, limbs, side, stomach low down, dizziness, chills, nervousness, fainting spells and other female troubles. I was almost dead. Three doctors did not help me. At last, I took Cardui, and with the first bottle obtained relief. Now I am cured. But for Cardui, I would have been dead." Try Cardui.

BURNING OF A FERRY STEAMER.

The Norfolk and Portsmouth Traction Company's ferry steamer Ocean View, running between Willoughby Spit and Old Point Comfort, was burned to the water's edge at her Willoughby pier early yesterday. Three of her crew were burned to death in their bunks. The pier also was destroyed. The cause of the fire is unknown. Many people en route to Old Point were caught at the end of the Spit with no way to cross to Hampton Roads.

The loss, covered by insurance, is $20,000 to the steamer and 2,000 to the pier. Chief Engineer J. T. Griffin, awakened by the smoke, had a brilliant escape through the flames, being compelled to crawl upon his hands and knees to the steamer's side. He was slightly burned.

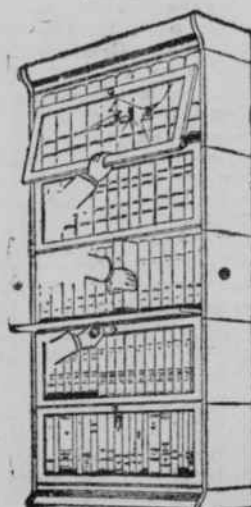

Many requests from Catarrh sufferers who use atomizers have caused us to put up Liquid Cream Balm, a new and convenient form of Ely's Cream Balm, the only remedy for Catarrh which can always be depended on. Its power to allay inflammation, to cleanse the clogged air-passages, to promote free, natural breathing, the two forms of Cream Balm are alike. Liquid Cream Balm is sold by all druggists for 75 cents, including spraying tube. Mailed by Ely Bros., 5 Warren Street, New York.
